TREASON!

It is at once pitiful and surprising, to see in what a loose, slipshod way many people of respectable information are accustomed to speak in regard to public matters. Thus we often find editors, office-holders, and even those who pass for tolerable kind of lawyers, declaiming against their political adversaries, or their doings, as 'treasonable,'—when there is really no more ground for such a charge, than there is for the belief that the "moon is made of green cheese." Whether those who so often bring this flippant accusation, are really and utterly ignorant of what they are so confidently talking about,—whether they are guilty of a knavish intent to deceive the unthinking multitude,—or whether they are only heedless and confused in their ideas upon the subject, it equally tries one's patience to listen to their nonsense.

During the late Presidential campaign, there was no small measure of these ridiculous charges of 'treason,' and 'treasonable,' hurled against the men and measures of the Republican party, by their adversaries, on the right hand and on the left. Just and noble men like CHARLES SUMNER, Wm. H. SEWARD, and others, whose patriotism is as certain and as earnest as was that of Jefferson or Hamilton, were coarsely and falsely denounced as traitors to the Union and as only seeking an opportunity to overthrow the government, and we have no sort of doubt that thousands of people who heard or read these foul assertions, were led to believe that they were entirely true, and that Messrs. Seward and Sumner were wicked and unprincipled rascals, who richly deserved the halter! Nothing, short of murder itself, could be a great wrong against two of the ablest, noblest, and most faithful sons of the republic.

We are led to these remarks by some shallow things which have lately been said and done by Governor Walker of Kansas, in this connexion. The Governor like a great many other folks, seems to have an idea that this, that, and the other thing are all 'treasonable'—whereas, they are no where in that neighborhood, any more than he is in danger of being a great man, or a statesman—not a wit. And, certainly, the chance for anything of that sort is so small, as to be totally invisible.

Gov. W. found it quite impossible to get through his inaugural without lagging in the old nonsense about "treasonable designs" on the part of the Free State settlers in Kansas; and the citizens of Lawrence having lately proposed to organize a municipal government for their own benefit, without first asking leave of the bogus Legislature. His small-potato excellency has come out with a proclamation denouncing them as guilty of incipient "treason," and all that sort of thing, and has actually called out a quantity of U. S. soldiers, with their firelocks, to sit down before the fated little city and consider whether it is not best to massacre the inhabitants for a crime which we suppose not a soul of them ever meditated, and of which any Governor that is half-witted ought to have known better than to accuse them.

For the benefit of all future Governors of Kansas, and other persons who seem to be so intensely innocent of any proper knowledge on the subject, we here append the definition of treason, as stated in the U. S. Constitution:—

"Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort."

If Robert J. Walker, walking in the light of that definition, can make out so much as the ghost of a decent or sensible charge of "treason" against the people of Lawrence,—because they propose to organize a municipal administration of their own local affairs, without asking leave of Border Ruffian law-givers,—we shall not hesitate to confess that he is a good deal smarter man, both at walking and talking, than we even yet took him for.

LOCAL NEWS.

At 150 Thames street a large collection of Books, comprising standard works of History, Biography, Poetry, &c., as well as of Fiction and the lighter forms of Literature, are offered for sale upon a system heretofore untried in Newport. With every purchase is associated a Gift. Each book bears on its cover a number corresponding with one placed upon some article of jewelry, ornamental cutlery, &c., which accompanies the volume at its sale. Customers are assured of receiving the full value of their money in mere acquisitions to their library shelves—the books being disposed of at very reduced rates—and consequently nothing of the nature of a lottery pertains to this "enterprise." Among the Gifts we notice Gold and Silver Watches, gold breast-pins, ear-drops, lockets, pencil-cases and sleeve-buttons. The stand where these sales are transacted is a guaranty against imposition or deception. Call and examine, if you do no more.

We are indebted to the gentlemanly proprietors of the establishment for a fine copy of "Shelley's Poetical Works," also for a very superior gold pen, with which we are inditing this.

The concert of Madame Gillingham Dostwick took place last Wednesday evening as previously announced at the Fillmore House Dining Hall. We are unable to record a full audience which could hardly have been expected so early in the season, especially as the evening was dark, and the weather threatening. The music was of a highly refined order, and we were glad to see that it was appreciated by those who had the pleasure of listening.

Madame Bostwick, as we anticipated, was the chief attraction of the entertainment, and we were far from being disappointed with the performance of her pieces although we had previously formed quite exalted ideas of her musical powers.

Sam Snooks says the particular object of the day days is to exhibit in all their grateful contrast the cat-acts of Niagara and Trenton; and to enable our friends abroad to renew and ratify their former acquaintance with the cool sea breezes and other comforts of the ancient city of Newport.

Our much respected and venerable fellow citizen, Mr. Thomas Hornsby, reached his ninety-first birthday on Monday last, 3d of August. His health continues remarkably good for one of his extreme age.

The graceful and healthy exercise of horseback riding was never more fashionable in Newport than this season; and large parties of ladies and gentlemen, on spirited steeds, are met nearly every fine day on our various roads and avenues.

Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative receives constantly such high testimony of praise from all parts of the country, as induces us to call attention to his advertisement in our paper. The Hair Restorative is one of the really deserving inventions of the day. HAZARD & CASWELL are the agents for its sale in Newport.

Fort Adams presented a gay scene yesterday afternoon of equipages and equestrians, which thronged its ample accommodations. The Germanians were there as usual, and discoursed sweet and martial music, much to the delight of all present.

We noticed a few days ago the contemplated walking feat of Mr. W. H. Hughes from California. Mr. H. commenced on this arduous task of walking for eighty successive hours on a plank three feet wide without sleep or rest on Wednesday noon, since which time he has continued to walk on, and we are assured that he will undoubtedly meet with success in accomplishing his task.

He is attended with several persons who will see that the feat is fairly accomplished. It is well worth while to call in and see this walking prodigy, especially as it costs only fifteen cents.

A portion of the New York Yacht Squadron, consisting of four fine little vessels, arrived, and were moored safely in our harbor during yesterday.

Our thanks are due to W. H. Barker, Collector, for a copy of the Tax-book for the present year.

ASSAULT UPON AN EDITOR.—THE ASSAULTER DANGEROUSLY STABBED.—The editor of the Lowell "Trumpet," a small weekly paper, having recently, says a correspondent of the Herald, inserted an article attacking the widowed sister of Mr. Wm. Waugh, sister of that city, Mr. Waugh undertook to personally chastise the editor in his office. The latter, during the melee, drew a dirk and stabbed his opponent twice, once in the leg, and once in the abdomen. The latter wound, it is feared, is dangerous. —Doston Traveller.

Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5, 1857.

MR. EDITOR:—

A new act in the Cunningham—Burdell drama has been performed, the details of which will have reached you by telegraph, and which it is not needful to repeat. The sensation produced yesterday throughout the city, by the affidavits and other developments in regard to the sham confinement of Madam C., was intense and all pervading. The result must be, to destroy the last possible chance for the confirmation of the alleged marriage, and of course to defeat the great end for which it must now be efficiently obvious, the harried assassination in Bond-street, was deliberately plotted and executed. That end, it is hardly necessary to add, was the clutching of poor Burdell's handsome property, estimated at eighty to one hundred thousand dollars. The character of madam will now be badly fly-blown, but that will be a slender punishment indeed for her great wickedness. Possibly she may yet bring up in State Prison.

The U. S. steamship Roanoke, from Aspinwall, bring two hundred more of Walker's fillusters, some 20 or 30 of whom have been sent to the hospital. If they had all been originally sent to jail, or to State Prison, instead of being suffered to go off there and share in the folly, crime and wretchedness in which they have been involved, it would have been far better for themselves, and certainly not any more disgraceful to the country. Our government must be conceded to be very charitable toward those concerned in slavery projects, or these miserable dogs, instead of being carefully brought home by a U. S. vessel, would have been summarily shot long ago, or dangled by hempen cords from the yard-arm.—Wonder if old Buck's administration will twitly encourage any more of these villainous forays upon the territory of our neighbors?

No progress has of late been made in completing the organization of the new police—some difference of opinion between the majority of the original members of the Board, on the one hand, and the two mayors on the other, preventing as yet the choice of a man to fill the place of Mr. Draper's resignation made in the Board, though some 3 to 400 ballots have been had for that purpose. It begins to grow doubtful whether the Board, as now constituted, will be able to furnish the city with what it so greatly needs, and what it has not in a long time had—viz. an active, faithful and efficient police. Mayor Wood's accession to the Board seems to have baffled and confused its movements—and what will be the upshot, it is hard to tell. Meantime, the Herald, Day-Book, and other "Dead Rabbit" organs, are filled with exulting shouts at the embarrassed state of things in the Police Board.

What do the readers of the Daily News imagine the real and personal estate in this city is worth? Only $621,175,252—five hundred and twenty-one millions one hundred and seventy-five thousand two hundred and fifty-two dollars. So says the Tax Commissioner's list of city property for 1857—which exhibits an aggregate or real estate to the amount of $352,958,803; and $163,216,449 in personal estate. Upon this vast mass of property the report of the tax committee in the Board of Supervisors proposes to levy nearly eight millions of dollars, for the city expenses of the current year.

The total mortality of the city for the last week was 531—being 60 more than the previous week. Deaths in Philadelphia last week, 224; in Baltimore, 130.

RAMBLER.

THE TARIFF OF MORTALITY.—A progressive undertaker, near London, advertises in the Times an improved "Funeral System," with a tariff to meet the views of all classes. He specifies:—"First class funeral, with hearse and four, two coaches and pairs, full equipments, lead coffin, case, &c., £30. Traumatic funeral, with hearse and pair and coach and pair, £6 6s. With hearse and one and coach and one £4."

Mr. Charles Lanman, the well-known author, and formerly private secretary to Mr. Webster, has been appointed to a similar position by Mr. Thompson in the Interior Department. The last public position held by Mr. Lanman was that of Examiner of Depositories under President Pierce.—Washington Star.

Dr. Staats says that the delirium tremens is becoming much more unmanageable than formerly. He attributes this to the strychnine used in the manufacture of whisky at the present time. Dr. S. will allow us to suggest that the tremendous delirium might be avoided by not drinking the whisky—as many people avoid sickness by not taking medicine.—Boston Post.

An inscription on a tombstone near San Diego, California, runs as follows: "This year is sacred to the memory of William Henry Skracken, who came to his death by being shot with Col's revolver—one of the old kind, brass mounted, and of such is the kingdom of heaven."

A brother of the celebrated Mr. Spurgeon has commenced preaching in Boston, England. He is said to be only 17 years old, and his eloquence while different in style, is reported to be fully equal to that of his brother.

The girls of Northampton have been sending a bachelor ulitor a bouquet of tany and wormwood. He says he don't care, it's sweeter than matrimony, anyhow.

Sugar fell in Philadelphia last week 1 and 1-4 cents a pound, flour 26c a barrel, and wheat 10 a 10c a bushel.

The latest development of the Cunningham inquiry is memorable even in the annals of New York crime. It would be difficult to get up anything more disgusting and horrible. It is a pity that the authorities have mixed themselves up with it. Even the doctor, we think, did quite enough when he communicated to the District Attorney the proposition that had been made to him. We do not think that he ought to have lent himself to the conspiracy which the District Attorney suggested; still less do we think that the latter should have gone into such an affair. It is well enough for the detective police to lay a trap to catch crime, but it is not the business of the higher officers of the law.

The offence with which Mrs. Cunningham is charged is very serious. The law of New York provides as follows:

"Every person who shall fraudulently produce an infant, falsely pretending it to have been born of parents whose child should be entitled to a share of any personal estate, or to inherit any real estate, with the intention of intercepting the inheritance of any such real estate or the distribution of any such personal property from any person lawfully entitled thereto, shall, upon conviction, be punished by imprisonment in a State Prison not exceeding ten years."—Provo Journal.

A RELIGIOUS VIEW OF SLAVERY.—"We see not why, in the exercise of enlightened reason and true Christian charity, anti-slavery men and pro-slavery men, masters and slaves, conforming to the revealed requirements of the gospel, may not live together in peace in this world, and be equally the subjects of salvation in that which is to come."

We do not see why they cannot. We think that a comprehensive Christianity can take the masters and slaves, pro-slavery men and abolitionists; but we do not believe that any religion that ever came from Heaven, or was invented upon earth, can stretch over those dough-faces who were horn and educated in the air of freedom and have caught none of its instincts; who render a cold intellectual assent to its principles, yet without one impulse of the heart; and who knowing that freedom is the best for a land, yet give all their influence to slavery.—Provo Jour.

SOMETHING NEW EVERY WEEK.
Testimony in favor of Prof. O. J. WOOD'S Hair Restorative Voluntary Certificates, of which one will be published every week.

VINCENNES, Ia., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used, for several years, been in the habit of using your Hair Restorative, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore to every person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours,

WILSON KING.

Beware of articles purporting to produce "results similar," as they are only abortive attempts to palm off a miserable article on the popularity of this, under a different name! O. J. WOOD & CO., Proprietors, 312 Broadway, N. Y. (in the great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

ALPINE HAIR BALM

Restoring Gray Hair to its Original Color.

WARRANTED to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, itching humors, and all diseases of the scalp. This Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the Hair, which passes through the Hair, and gives it a natural color without the use of Hair Dyes.

Hundreds of preparations have been introduced, pretending to preserve the Hair and keep it from falling off, composed of Oils, Alcohol and other deleterious materials, and all to no use. Hair Dyes have been introduced that do not give the Hair a natural color, besides being troublesome to use. This Balm is not a Dye. Knowing that a preparation was needed to do what was required for the Hair, the proprietor was induced to experiment until he could obtain an article that would be the exact remedy. It is soothing and emollient allays all irritation of the scalp, thereby stopping that troublesome itching. It cures Dandruff and Scurf, and when the Hair has turned gray it will bring it back to its original color by the use of Black, Brown or Auburn. It makes the Hair soft and glossy—prevents it from falling off, as will be soon by using this Balm for only a few days—life will be given to the roots of the Hair, and growth will soon appear. Growth does not take place at the end of the Hair, as will be seen in persons who have their Hair dyed. If you examine gray hair that has been dyed for a week, you will find towards the roots that the hair has come out gray, hence it is necessary to have the fluid at the root of the hair healthy, and the whole hair may be a natural color. Each hair has a root in the skin, and is of itself a hollow, gray tube, through which there is a constant circulation of the pigment from the root.—When this pigment or coloring matter dies out, it leaves the hair hollow and it becomes gray. To prevent a Balm that would produce this pigment has become the study of the proprietor. The discovery of the Alpine Hair Balm will do it. It will bring the Hair to its natural color by the use of the coloring matter in the roots of the hair.

It is a mistaken notion that oil or grease will restore the hair, as nothing can be more injurious. The Alpine Hair Balm, will restore the skin and save the hair of those who have been sick with fever or any disease.
